DEAD HORSE RANCH

STATE PARK

02/23

Dead Horse Ranch State Park has 423 acres, ideal for camping, mountain biking in the Coconino National Forest, hiking along the Verde River, canoeing, picnicking, fishing, or just wading in the cool water of the Verde River.

The ranch got its name when the Ireys family came to Arizona from Minnesota in the late 1940s looking to buy a ranch. At one property they discovered a dead horse lying by the road. When Mr. Ireys asked the kids which ranch they liked best, they said, "the one with the dead horse." The family named it "Dead Horse Ranch," and when Arizona State Parks acquired the park in 1973, the Ireys made retaining the name a condition of sale.

Thank you for visiting!

Hiking Trails

Trails are located within the park and the adjacent Coconino National Forest.

Canopy: A 0.25-mile ADA-accessible trail that loops under a Fremont cottonwood tree canopy. Bird watching and wildlife viewing abound.

Creosote: 0.5-mile shortcut trail. Shared-use.

Dead Horse Trail System: A non-motorized 20+ mile shared-use mix of double track and single track trails. Four trailheads throughout the park lead up to the high desert of Coconino National Forest. The Lime Kiln Trail leg follows a portion of the historic Lime Kiln Wagon Road from Cottonwood to Sedona. Hikers and equestrians are encouraged to travel counterclockwise on the basic loop — Lime Kiln, Thumper, and Raptor Trails. Mountain bikers usually find that starting at the Roadrunner trailhead and riding the loop clockwise is more fun. For most cyclists, the trail is rated intermediate to expert.

Forest Loop: A 0.5-mile shared-use loop trail that circles around and through a diversely forested area with river access.

Hickey Ditch: A 0.5-mile shared-use trail that follows along the Hickey irrigation ditch to the Verde River. Intersects with Quail Wash Trail. The trailhead is located at north end of the west lagoon parking lot.

Mesa: A 1-mile loop that circles the top of the hill west of Red-Tail Hawk campground with scenic views.

Quail Wash: A 0.25-mile trail that intersects with Hickey Ditch Trail. Hikers and bicycles only.

Tavasci Marsh: 1-mile shared-use trail.
